Applied Handling NW Pricing Policy

Applied Handling NW (a division of DACO Corporation) works very hard to provide our customers with cost effective, quality products.

Prices are subject to change without prior notice, as price changes may be made by the manufacturers which are beyond our control.

Sometimes errors in pricing can occur, and when discovered, Applied Handling NW reserves the right to rescind the pricing and correct any errors, inaccuracies or omissions made. This applies to any order that has already been submitted to Applied Handling NW, whether or not the order has been confirmed and your credit card charged.
